DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

I. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shih in view of Hasness. Regarding claim 1, Shih discloses the claimed invention except for the teaching that a battery can be positioned in the base for powering the lamp. Shih discloses a base 2 with an opening it. At least one semiconductor 21 (see column 2, lines 20-21) is disposed in the base 2. A transparent refractive body 1 (see column 2, lines 10-13) is further mounted to the base to enable an incident light from the semiconductor luminotron to have long propagation. Hasness discloses a light wand having a DC power source in its base in order to provide a more versatile light source. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to include a DC power source in the base of Shih as taught by Hasness in order to provide a more versatile light. Regarding claims 2-5, it would have been an obvious optical engineering choice to make the reflecting granula less than 4 mm, any size or shape or evenly distributed in the refractive body.

Response to Arguments

II. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Brown or Iwamoto et al disclose refractive light guides that further include reflective particles.
